BIOGRAFI

All my life I have been an ambitious and curious person that has always wanted to develop, and become better in areas that interest me. This dedication started with my golf career and have in recent years switched focus into design and web development.

My previous work experience contains everything from an insurance advisor and city mailman, to work on golf clubs in Sweden and Greece. Every job has taught me something for the future. But they also brought life lessons and clues for what type of work I want to have, and that is a job with great colleagues and with creative tasks that gives me the opportunity to develop myself as a person and my skill set.

As previously mentioned I am ambitious and that is the reason why I during my three years at Linneaus University, studying Enterprise & Business Development, started to do projects on the side of school. I have been president at EHVS, a student association for the business students in Växjö with over 1100 members, founded and finished a charity project called Project: Welldone in order to raise 80,000 SEK for the digging of a well in Ethiopia and finally been holding lectures regarding mental illness to fight the stigmatization existing in our society.

When I do something, I do it all in. Now I want to work with you at Alliance, not just because I am a great designer and person to work with, but also since I am a gamer myself, and know and love the E-sport world.

So, please contact me and let us talk IRL.

Best regards

Max Thunberg
